Labor at The Legislature

From the Capitol Office

Of the Executive Secretary

Just before the Memorial Day recess, the Assembly approved SB 232 by a 49 to 10 vote. The bill, by Senator Grunsky, would add strength to the "equal pay for equal work" concept in California. It is supported as beneficial legislation by the California Labor Federation, AFL-CIO. The task of steering SB 232 through passage in the Assembly was well done by Assemblywoman Pauline Davis, in the face of vigorous opposition during debate. The measure now goes to the Governor, requiring only his signature to make it law.

SB 576 was sent to the Assembly floor with a favorable recommendation for passage from the Criminal Procedures Committee. This is the bill which will exempt motion picture projectionists, working for wages, from criminal liability in cases involving movie censorship. Since the first legislative step, the California Labor Federation has worked actively in support of this proposal throughout the 1968 session. There was no dissent on the committee, the measure drawing bi-partisan support. With the principal author, Senator Albert Rodda, absent due to illness, Senator George Moscone of San Francisco presented SB 576 to the Assembly committee at the request of the Federation.

COPE Candidates Win In Primary

California's senior Senator Thomas H. Kuchel, a moderate Republican, was narrowly defeated by conservative State Superintendent of Public Instruction Max Rafferty for the GOP nomination in last Tuesday's primary elections but other COPE-endorsed candidates swept to victory in 80 of the 84 congressional, state, senate, and assembly districts in which endorsements were made.

Rafferty will face former Democratic State Controller Alan Cranston in the general election next November. Cranston romped to an easy victory over his closest competitor for the Democratic nomination, State Senator Anthony Beilenson.

New Hearing Set On Anti-Labor AB 1555

The legislative battle over Assembly Bill 1555 will be resumed at a new hearing before the Assembly Industrial Relations Committee on Monday, June 10, at 1:30 p.m., in Room 2133 of the Capitol. This bill, which would delay the pay of thousands of California workers, was refused passage in the Assembly before the Memorial Day recess. It is being revived with a series of "author's amendments" which would make it worse than it was. Labor must be alert and united in working to defeat AB 1555.

The amendments are an obvious attempt to divide the labor movement in California. They create the illusion of "taking care" of one segment of labor, with the transparent objectives of dividing and destroying the effectiveness of labor

Reagan Unfit, GOP's Ripon Society Says

Evidence of growing public dissatisfaction with Governor Ronald Reagan's performance as chief executive of the nation's most populous state began to snowball this week.

"Reagan is today unqualified for any national post requiring a high degree of administrative or diplomatic responsibility."

This was the conclusion of the Ripon Society, a moderate Republican research group, in

More Aid Urged For Youths Seeking Summer Jobs

AFL-CIO organizations throughout the state are being urged to redouble their efforts to help the state's youth find jobs this summer.

Pointing out that many unions and central bodies are already engaged in programs aimed at aiding disadvantaged youths, Albin J. Gruhn, President of the California Labor Federation and a member of the statewide Summer Youth Job Campaign Coordinating Committee, said:

"The needs of youth, particularly poor youth, for assistance in obtaining summer employment is greater this year than ever before. As California's schools closed for sum-unity in California.

Make no mistake about it: AB 1555 is just as bad with the proposed amendments as it was when first introduced. If anything, it is even more obnoxious.

This type of game playing concerns the entire labor movement in California—it must be stopped.

In a week-long struggle on the Assembly floor, this anti-labor measure recently failed to pass. Upon reconsideration, it was returned to the Committee for amendments and a fresh assault.

Labor is opposed vigorously to AB 1555—no amendment will mitigate in its favor and it should be decisively beaten. Its purpose is to delay payment of badly needed, well-earned paychecks to seasonal workers upon termination of employment.

AB 1555 is clearly aimed at accommodating employers at the expense of the working people.

United labor opposition fought this bill to a standstill and into retreat. It is again necessary to bring this opposition strongly and quickly to the attention of the Assemblymen and particularly those on the Industrial Relations Committee.

The chairman of the Committee is Walter Powers of Sacramento—other members are Peter F. Schabarum, Covina; John V. Briggs, Fullerton; Earle P. Crandall, San Jose; Bill Greene, Los Angeles; David A. Roberti, Los Angeles; and Alan Sieroty, Los Angeles.

Be sure to contact your Assemblyman on this urgent matter immediately.

Ways and Means on June 12 also set for hearing AB 661, a Federation supported bill on State printing, which is authored by Assemblymen Burton and Britschgi and Senator Moscone.

SB 393 by Senator Dills, a proposal to give tax relief to the motion picture industry, will have further hearing before the Assembly Committee on Revenue and Taxation in Room 2170 on the afternoon of June 12. The bill has strong labor support.

Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee has set 9:30 a.m. on June 12 in Room 4203 to hear AB 127, a Federation sponsored bill to provide for voluntary membership dues deductions at the University of California.

Good bills scheduled for Senate committee hearings during the week beginning June 10 include:

A Federation sponsored bill, AB 283—Burton, dealing with public employer-employee practices will be heard at a special meeting of the State Employment, Retirement and Military Affairs Committee at 8:00 p.m., Tuesday, June 11 in Room 2170 at the Capitol.

AB 727, Fenton, automobile liability insurance; AB 576, Negri, on credit sales, both in Insurance and Financial Institutions at 9:30 a.m. in Room 4040, June 10.

SB 542, Marks, election materials, in Elections and Reapportionment, June 12 in Room 4040 at nine in the morning.

On June 13 in Senate Judiciary, SB 708, Moscone, on the labor commissioner; SB 709, Moscone, on wage claims, and SB 1181, Beilenson, on attachments, at 8 p.m. in Room 4203.

Senate committees will also be hearing a heavy volume of bad bills during the week. These include:

SB 589 on unemployment insurance and SB 590 on motor vehicle insurance in Insurance and Financial Institutions June 10.

SB 335 on pelagic fish and SB 1135 on employment agencies in Finance at 9 a.m. June 11.

Also on June 11, in Senate Labor Committee, SB 1065 on minimum wages for women and minors and AB 820, on machinery operation by minors in Room 3191 at 9:30 a.m., both bad measures.

Senate Education on June 11 at 1:30 p.m. hears SB 601 on school transportation and SB 994 on students admissions, also bad bills.

June 13 Senate Revenue and Taxation will hear SCA 13, a bad proposal relating to assessment of property. The same day, Senate Judiciary has before it a bad bill on payment of wages. The latter hearing is at 8 p.m. in Room 4203.

The Assembly Industrial Relations Committee has AB 1142, relating to fair employment practices, on file at the same meeting as AB 1555. Both these are bad bills being heard June 10.

The next day, June 11, the Assembly State Employment, Retirement and Military Affairs Committee will hold a special meeting to hear, among others, two bad bills—AB 678 and SB 499—relating to public employer-employee relations. This hearing will be held at 8 p.m. in Room 2170 at the Capitol.

"Labor at the Legislature" is designed to facilitate communication between the legislators and Labor affiliates—organizations and membership—in their home areas. Our purpose is to give information on the status of bills so that those remote from the Capitol can keep informed. In turn, those involved or affected should promptly contact their Senators and Assemblymen to make their views clearly known on legislation of concern to the working men and women of the State. In this manner California Labor will secure the greatest service from its Sacramento office and staff as well as from their elected members of the Legislature.

Transformed Bill Perils Liquor Store Workers

this bill provided only that the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Department could not issue, renew or approve transfer of a retail alcoholic beverage license for premises located within 1,000 feet of an elementary or secondary school in a county of 4,000,000 population or over.

This was referred to the Governmental Efficiency and Economy Committee. On May 23 it came back to the Assembly for approval of author's amendments and re-referral to the committee.

The original text of the bill has been completely erased. Its passage would now make it a misdemeanor for an off-sale liquor store operator to permit any one under 21 to enter and remain in the store. It would also extend misdemeanor liability to persons under 21 violating these provisions.

AB 1350 would go further, defining a "liquor store" in tightly restrictive terms.

As it now stands, this bill would seriously affect not only off-sale licensees but their employees. Those concerned should promptly and clearly communicate with their Assemblymen, particularly those on the Governmental Efficiency and Economy Committee, as to their position on AB 1350.

This bill is scheduled for committee consideration at its June 12 meeting.

The Payoff

According to Detroit's Mayor Cavanaugh, the city's juvenile crime rates dropped as much as 30 percent in areas where summer anti-poverty programs were in effect.

A Neighborhood Youth Corps program enrolled 9,500 youngsters in a project that cost $5.4 million. The alumni of that program now earn a total of $10.5 million a year and pay taxes of $1.75 million annually. The city's on-the-job training programs cost $378 per trainee. Trainees now earn between $4,500 and $5,000 a year.

gan as a favorite son presidential candidate by more than half a million votes.

With 19,838 of 21,301 precincts statewide reporting, Rafferty led Kuchel 993,552 to 938,494. In the Cranston-Beilenson race, Cranston had racked up 1,512,194 votes to Beilenson's 583,159.

In the congressional races, all 20 Democratic incumbents seeking re-election won their nomination handily. In the 10th District where Rep. R. King (D-Los Angeles) was retiring at the conclusion of this term, former Lieutenant Governor Glenn M. Anderson of Torrance won the Democratic nomination over seven other candidates and will face Republican Joe Blatchford next November.

ONLY ONE NOSED OUT

In the 10th Congressional District Robert K. Arnold, the COPE-endorsed candidate, was nosed out by Grayson S. Takeda for the Democratic nomination. Arnold was the only COPE-endorsed candidate for Congress to fall by the wayside.

In State Senate races, 10 out of 12 COPE candidates won, including George E. Danielson in the 27th District in Los Angeles who defeated Democrat Richard N. Calderon, his closest challenger. In the 23rd State Senate District, former Assemblyman Lou Cusanovich defeated Joseph W. McGee, the COPE-endorsee for the Republican nomination and in the 35th Senate District Louis J. Gentile was edged out by Gordon T. Shepard for the Democratic nomination.

ASSEMBLY ACTION

On the Assembly side, veteran Assemblyman Lester A. McMillan of Los Angeles was defeated in his race for the Democratic nomination in the 61st Assembly District by Henry A. Waxman, a former President of the California Federation of Young Democrats.

Veteran trade unionist James L. (Jim) Evans nosed out Rex Gunn for the Democratic nomination in the 73rd Assembly District in San Bernardino County by a semi-official vote of 17,345 to 15,989.

Both of the statewide propositions on the ballot appeared to be getting the simple majority approval necessary. Proposition No. 1 will authorize a $200 million bond issue for farm and home loans to veterans and Proposition No. 2 will authorize a $65 million bond issue for Junior College construction.

Both were endorsed by the State AFL-CIO.

Work To Combat Fanatics, Pitts Urges

"The California AFL-CIO is stunned and appalled by the assassination of Senator Robert F. Kennedy.

"It seems apparent at the moment that this despicable act was the work of a deranged fanatic. Fanaticism feeds on the half-truths and distorted reports aired on extremist radio and TV programs and in some newspapers and other printed periodicals throughout our nation today. It can be combated in part only by an aroused, alert, and amply informed citizenry exhibiting the faith and patience that the preservation of the freedoms we enjoy demand. To this end we must all dedicate ourselves right now."

Pitts had also sent wires expressing the hope of California trade unionists for the Senator's "swift and complete recovery" to Mrs. Ethel Kennedy and Senator Ted Kennedy.

Labor Eyes Move For Textbook Printing Study

Assembly Concurrent Resolution 125, introduced May 23 and referred to the Assembly Rules Committee, is a bill introduced late in the 1968 session which has deep implications for both labor and education in California.

Under its provisions, a joint interim committee would be set up to study completely the printing of textbooks for California elementary schools including the comparative costs of state printing with printing on a contractual basis. The committee would also go into how much money is expended to purchase non-state printed texts.

If ACR 125 is approved, the committee would have six members—three from each house—and $40,000 available for expenses. The committee would report to the 1970 session of the Legislature.

More Aid Urged For Youths Seeking Summer Jobs

mer vacation, some 400,000 young people are expected to be searching for summer jobs.

"Central labor councils, craft councils, district councils, and local unions will, I am confident, cooperate to the fullest extent possible to assist these youths in obtaining meaningful employment consistent with the legitimate framework of federal and state laws and the various collective bargaining agreements in the industries in which they are employed."

Trade unionists, Gruhn added, "have a vital stake in assuring that the introduction to the world of work that these 16 to 21 year old youths receive is a positive one so far as the role of organized labor is concerned."

Union officials also have an obligation both to the youths and to present trade union members to see to it that the jobs created by the employer community are not jobs designed to fill regular job opportunities for breadwinners with youths employed at cut-rate wages, he said.

"Open-line communications between management and affected labor organizations in the planning of job creation programs would assist significantly in minimizing problems of this nature," Gruhn observed, adding that he was confident that employers participating in the Summer Youth Job Campaign would find ready cooperation from AFL-CIO organizations so long as the program was not designed to replace permanent workers, undercut union standards or short-change the youths.

Gruhn recalled that President Johnson recognized this problem when the Youth Opportunities Campaign was initiated over three years ago. At the time, President Johnson pointed out that a job creation program would be "worthwhile only if it means extra work—training opportunities over and above those which would normally be offered."

If it replaces regular job opportunities, the President warned, it would be "worthless or worse."

Reagan Unfit, Ripon Society Says; Governor's Popularity Plummet

a 16,000-word, 24-page study of Reagan's gubernatorial record that was begun last Fall.

The Society, which has six chapters across the nation including one in Los Angeles, faulted Reagan for his "will not to govern" and for blunders in such key areas as budgetary policy, the Medi-Cal program, mental health services, law enforcement, higher education and the war on poverty.

The report charged that Reagan has shown impatience with the complexities of government, a lack of interest in administrative detail and has failed to provide leadership for California's civil servants.

"He is unable to control, guide and limit effectively a large governmental bureaucracy," the Society said.

It pointed out that Reagan's approach to the California budget, the largest state budget in the nation, is to "cut now, ask questions later" instead of considering the impact of spending cuts or the possibility that they may eventually cost more than the savings immediately apparent.

"The California Governor blames most problems on very simple forces and has a habit of confronting them with uncompromising force," the report said.

"Reagan tends to see a Munich analogy behind every issue, domestic and foreign," it added.

"We are forced to conclude that at this stage in his public career, Ronald Reagan has not developed the managerial skills to control, guide, and limit effectively a large governmental bureaucracy," it said, adding that his hawkish stand on Vietnam "sounds like 'common sense' only to those who think that conducting a foreign policy is like winning a football game."

A day earlier, the impartial California Poll survey conducted by Mervin D. Field reported that Reagan's public popularity after less than a year and a half in office had plummeted to a level barely above that of Governor Brown after seven years in office.

Specifically, the poll found that "the proportion of the public which rates his (Reagan's) performance as 'poor' has almost doubled, and the percentage giving him 'good' ratings has dropped by one-fourth."

Among the chief issues drawing public disapproval were Reagan's mammoth tax boost in the face of a promise to cut taxes; his slashes in the mental health budget and attempts to cutback the state's Medi-Cal program as well as cuts or proposed cuts in college funds and aid to the needy and his proposal to charge tuition at state universities.

At a press conference following publication of the Ripon Society's report, Governor Reagan dismissed the society as an "extremist group."

AB 1465 Draws Fed Opposition

AB 1465 by Speaker Unruh is strongly opposed by the California Labor Federation, AFL-CIO. Adding sections to the Unemployment Insurance Code, this bill, according to its backers, relates to "summer employment opportunities" for "disadvantaged youth."

It provides a series of bureaucratic controls of the program by the Governor's Director of Economic Opportunity and the Director of Employment. Recent amendments have put a five million dollar appropriation into the bill.

AB 1465 has been sent by the Committee on Government Organization with amendments to Ways and Means Committee. The latter plans to hear the bill on June 12.

This bill was introduced by the Speaker on April 5 along with AB 1463 and AB 1464, which also have strong, urgent opposition from the Federation. Similar to its companion bills, AB 1465 originally was a modest bill of only five lines. As it goes into Ways and Means it is a complex proposal, five pages long with a $5,000,000 price tag.

A. F. Dougherty, Veteran Labor Leader, Dies

joined Bartenders Local 41 in San Francisco in 1936, was elected business agent in 1939 and was elected executive officer of the union in 1942. Earlier he had been a member of the Teamsters Union.

During a 90-day strike in 1937 he helped organize the unorganized hotel employees, including chambermaids, desk clerks and elevator operators who then lacked the union protections enjoyed by cooks, waiters and waitresses and bartenders.

ROLE IN STRIKE

He also played a major role in the 1940-41 hotel workers strike which, due to the war, was ultimately settled by the National Labor Relations Board.

Mr. Dougherty was elected to the Executive Council of the California State Federation of Labor as a Vice President at the Federation's statewide convention in San Francisco in 1946 and won reelection continuously thereafter. In December, 1965, he retired from his post as executive officer of Local 41.

SHUNNED LIMELIGHT

Commenting on his passing, state AFL-CIO leader Thos. L. Pitts said:

"Art Dougherty was a man who never sought the limelight but worked quietly and steadily all his life to better the wages and working conditions of his fellow man. He will be deeply missed by all who knew him."

Mr. Dougherty, a native of San Francisco, is survived by his wife, Mrs. Dorothy B. Dougherty.

Funeral services were held in San Francisco last Saturday.

Urban Ghetto Cynicism

"A major roadblock encountered by any anti-poverty effort in the urban ghetto is the deep cynicism of its residents. The nature of the current program exacerbates this difficulty, because its goals are long-range and most of its important benefits are deferred."—Paul Bullock, Institute of Industrial Relations, UCLA.
